Introduction

There are many things to arrange and get ready before you leave your home country and arrive in Australia. This pre-arrival fact sheet will provide tips to consider before you arrive and help you prepare for your stay in Australia.

We would suggest you read this information before your arrival, on arrival and some information you will be able to refer to once you have been in Australia for a few days or weeks.

It is recommended you arrive in Australia and allow a few days to settle in to familiarise yourself with your location, campus, and surrounds, attend to tasks e.g.: attend bank appointment, learn where the facilities are and shop for daily living necessities, settle into your accommodation and find some time to rest – Ready to embark with your study.

Planning

If you can, aim to arrive in Australia with free time available to settle in, meet people (and do some sightseeing!) before classes begin. This may be a week or more before Teaching Period starts.

When booking your flights, keep in mind the study dates, including Orientation which takes place the week before Teaching Period begins and is an important time for new students.

Arrival

Did you know that UniSQ provides free airport pick up services for new arriving students? Simply complete the online booking form and ensure you submit the form at least 7 days before you arrive. It is important to ensure you include the flight itinerary and accommodation arrangement information so that we can process your request without delay.

Location and distance from the university

The drive from Brisbane Airport to Toowoomba takes approximately 2 hours with Ipswich and Springfield about an hours' drive from the airport.

Consider the time of day/night you arrive and plan for the possible weather change from where you have left from.

Temperature in Toowoomba is usually cooler than Ipswich and Springfield especially at night and in the early morning and you may need a jacket with you.

Transport

For Brisbane buses, trains and water taxis refer to the Translink website.

For metropolitan travel you will need a go card | Translink. This will be required when utilising public transport in the Springfield and Ipswich area.

UniSQ has an inter-campus shuttle bus service that operates between the Toowoomba, Ipswich and Springfield campuses daily (Weekdays only). This service is FREE, and Wi-Fi is provided on the bus.

In Toowoomba the public transport system consists of a network of buses, and you require Australian cash to purchase a ticket for each commute. Please refer to the Translink website.

There are also two regular bus services (Greyhound, Murrays) from Toowoomba to Brisbane, each with their own special discounts and deals for travel.

Driving in Queensland

Driving in Australia may be different to your own country. In Australia each state and territory have their own driving and traffic rules, licencing requirements. In Queensland you can drive with a valid overseas licence Refer to: Queensland Government website

Please read - Tips for driving safely and become familiar with the road rules. You should also consider comprehensive car insurance if you decide to drive in Australia.

Renting in Australia

PLEASE NOTE: Currently there is an unprecedented shortage of rental properties available across Australia. It is important to consider your accommodation needs before you arrive in Australia. You will need to arrange a few nights' accommodation if your permanent accommodation is not available.

Information about renting in Australia can be found on the Study Australia website. Rentals in Australia usually require signing a lease which is a contract for a period of time (often 6 or 12 months). Please read the conditions of the contract as this can bind you to the conditions and period of lease contract and can be challenging if your circumstances change.

The Rental Tenancies Authority \(RTA\) is a state government authority that helps make renting work for everyone. They provide tenancy information, bond management, dispute resolution, investigation, and policy and education services. All rentals in Queensland should be lodged with the RTA.

Visit their webpage to find out more about your Rights and Responsibilities as a tenant. More information on what to do before starting a tenancy, what to expect whilst renting and how to end your tenancy is also available.

The Queensland Civil and Administrative Tribunal \(QCAT\) is an independent tribunal that assists with dispute resolution. They can assist with residential tenancy disputes.

Student Accommodation

UniSQ has three owned & operated Residential Colleges at the Toowoomba campus. Currently there is no University operated student accommodation at either Springfield or Ipswich campuses. Residential Colleges only have private, single occupancy rooms, and currently do not offer rooms for couples or families.

To find out more information about our Residential Colleges, head to our website. You can complete your application online to live on colleges. It is essential you complete this application prior to arrival as there is high demand for our on-campus student accommodation.

You should check if a service is available, and connected, before signing a tenancy agreement. Also check in student accommodation if all utilities and internet is included in the rental costs.

Mobile phones and internet

The Student Australia website can provide information about mobile (cell) phones and internet in Australia. It is best to purchase a SIM card or Australian mobile number when you arrive in Australia, as using your home phone number will incur high costs. Health for International Students

Health and Medication

Have medical/dental check-ups and pack spare pairs of glasses/contact lenses and prescriptions for medications. Bring sufficient medication, if possible, to enable you to locate the most appropriate medical and health service to meet your needs.

It is recommended you bring a letter from your doctor stating the name of the medication, dose required, reason for the medication and information about your medical history. Also check with your doctor that you will be able to obtain the medications you require in Australia. This applies to complementary medications as well e.g., herbal, homeopathic or traditional medications. If you have an ongoing or chronic health condition, ask your doctor for a letter of referral to a health practitioner in Australia.

Prescriptions are required for specific medication prescribed by a General Practitioner (GP) or specialist and can be purchased at a pharmacy (also known as a chemist). Pharmacies also sell a range of over the counter/non-prescribed medicines such as cough medicines or paracetamol. Pharmacists can provide advice and information about these medicines and general health products.

Ensure your vaccinations are up to date and bring copies of your vaccination records.

Ensure your Overseas Student Health Cover (OSHC) is arranged. The Department of Home Affairs requires international students to maintain OSHC for the duration of time they are in Australia. For further information please visit the Study in Australia website. Bupa is UniSQ's health and care partner and preferred OSHC provider. Please explore the OSHC Bupa website to understand the extent of and limits to your cover.

Accessing health care services in Australia

In Australia, if you don't feel well, the first place you will usually go is a GP. These types of doctors are skilled in a broad range of medical conditions and can assist you if you feel unwell, need a prescription, blood tests or a vaccination. Your GP can also provide general sexual health assistance, including contraceptive advice and birth control, pap tests, sexually transmitted disease testing and pregnancy testing and advice. You can also see a doctor in their private practice or a medical centre, with part or the entire doctor's fee being covered by your OSHC insurance. You will need to make an appointment to see a GP.

Southern Queensland
Australia

You will need to have your OSHC card with you, or have it downloaded on your phone using the Bupa App. Some GP surgeries will request full payment at the time of consultation, and you'll need to get a receipt to claim the rebate from your OSHC provider.

OSHC providers such as Bupa have a 'find a doctor' link and UniSQ can also support you to locate a doctor or health service.

Visit studyaustralia.gov.au/english/live/insurance for further information regarding health care for students while in Australia including health issues related to sexual health, contraception, pregnancy, HIV testing and health rights and responsibilities in Australia.

Emergency

Working in Australia

You must have a valid student visa that also allows you to work in Australia. Generally, you cannot work until you have started your course and you are limited to working 48 hours per fortnight during semester. For further information please refer to: Subclass 500 Student visa \(homeaffairs.gov.au\)

It is important you know both your rights and responsibilities as a worker. Contact the Fair Work Ombudsman and download their guide for international students: Visa holders & migrants - Fair Work Ombudsman

You will need a Tax File Number (TFN) if you want to work in Australia. Find out about how to get a TFN at: ato.gov.au

There are important details about tax and superannuation that depend on how long you will be in Australia. More information: ato.gov.au/Individuals/Super

Finding a job

Once you have arrived you might like to look for a job. You will need a current resume detailing your education, employment history, experience, skills, referees and may need to respond to selection criteria detailing how you meet the requirements of the role. The process may also include an interview and some roles need specific requirements such as a Police Check or a Working with Children's Card or vaccination status or specific certificates.
