NOISE GENERATION AND DISTURBANCE

There have been several reported incidents of excessive noise in residential blocks. Students who are more used to studying in a peaceful atmosphere have lodged their verbal complaints. Your attention is drawn to the following:

The generation of noise must be avoided at all costs. You can minimise noise if you:

- . keep your door shut when you have visitors
- . do not encourage loud talking in your room
- . do not slam doors, and
- . do not leave doors to TV room open.

Loud music is a form of noise pollution and can be very annoying in a high-density living environment. If you have developed a taste for loud music, you must use headphones.

GEOLOGY BBQ

Geology students have been given special permission to hold a BBQ on Friday 31 March in the BBQ Courtyard in McGregor College.

All McGregor residents are notified that it is a private function.
