MISSING CLOTHES

Clothing belonging to Adam Black (McGregor H4) went missing from the clothes line some time between Thursday evening (April 12) and Good Friday (April 13) 12noon. If anyone has any knowledge of the whereabouts of the following items, please contact either Adam or the Warden's Office:

- one red and brown check patterned flannel shirt.
- one light grey T-Shirt (large size).
- one white T-Shirt (small size) with a Koala picture and "Rock 'n Roll Renegade" logo on it.
- one red and white horizontal striped T-Shirt with soft collar.

MISSING MONEY

A student of McGregor College is missing quite a sum of money. This loss is causing her considerable distress. If anyone has any information regarding this matter, please contact the Warden's Office.

YOUR VALUABLES & SECURITY

In respect of the above two items, it is hoped that the above property has either been mislaid or taken by mistake. However, the possibility exists that they may have been deliberately taken. If this is so, it is of considerable concern to all College residents for mutual trust and respect is essential in such a close community as exists in Colleges.

Nevertheless, you can ensure the safety of your valuables by observing a few common sense procedures including:

- secure your room (doors and windows) when you leave your room (even when at meals).
- when not in your room avoid leaving valuables in full view of anyone who may pass by (you may need to draw the curtains).
- avoid leaving clothes on the line overnight.

FOOD SERVICES OF RESIDENTIAL COLLEGES

As you are probably aware, the provision of food services to residential students is now handled by the newly appointed Food Services Manager of the UCSQ (Mr Brian Hansson). Effectively, Colleges now purchase food services from the UCSQ on a payment basis.

The Colleges would be very pleased to receive any constructive input from residential students as to the day-to-day consistency, quality and presentation of food through the established Food Services Committee of Colleges.

For all input, discussion and information, please contact the following members of the Committee:
