[3]Student must provide up to three receipts for experience costs, at a value of approximately one third of the total funding request (e.g., airfares, accommodation, conference/program fees). Important information

- While not a requirement to be approved for an overseas study program, students do require at least 1 study unit remaining in their program after completion of the overseas study program to be considered for additional travel support via an application for the OS-HELP loan.
- If the student chooses to forego the OS-HELP loan, the final unit of the student's program prior to graduation can be awarded as credit based on the Program Director-approved overseas study program.

For more information about the overseas study program, students are encouraged to contact the Global Relations Team at studyabroad@unisq.edu.au.

Other opportunities

Recipients may have the opportunity to participate in leadership and development programs as they are made available. Recipients will also have the opportunity to participate in the UniSQ Student Ambassador Program.
